To whom it may concern:

I have had the pleasure of working with Rupa Krishnamurthi for the last couple of years. She has proven herself to be a proactive, hard-working, results orientated individual. Rupa is always willing to discuss and brainstorm ways to solve business problems and innovations.

Rupa is able to quickly understand our requirements and what is needed in order for us to be successful. She then takes the initiative to use her network to identify different solutions, and present these back in order to help us solve the problem or further our initiatives. Rupa is an effective communicator and influencer, and I would recommend her as a business development leader, or as a key account manager.

Should you have any questions or need additional information, please feel free to contact me at your convenience.
